This year's topic:

As the major challenges of our time and society are obviously not getting smaller, we decided to stick to last year's topic 'Solving the World's Major Challenges - A Call for Innovations'. Due to the great number of submissions of the last year (213 application from 29 countries) we feel that it strikes a nerve. We would like to give more projects an opportunity to provide new solutions to current crucial developments in culture and society. The deadline for submissions was 12th May, 2016! You'll find the call here <http://nice-europe.eu/award/call-16/>.
